Representative Cushman at Hamilton Club Predicts
Civil War.

He Speaks at President's Request Against Suppression of Liberty.

To Labor Where One Will Is Sacred, and Blood Will Protect Right.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The need for a second emancipation proclamation in America, one this time freeing the worker from the bondage of unprincipled labor leaders, was declared to be imperative tonight by Representative Cushman of Washington, who addressed the Hamilton Club on the occasion of its seventh anniversary. The speaker declared that if the movement to arrest the freedom of the individual continues in America, "and the orderly march of liberty under law" is stayed there will remain nothing in American principles worth preserving.

In effect Representative Cushman, who was in some sense the mouthpiece of the President, having been asked by the Chief Executive to address the Hamilton Club, declared for the establishment of the "open shop" and predicted that unless this was amicably brought about the issue might be fought out in blood.

TWO KINDS OF SLAVERY.
"There are two kinds of slavery in this world," declared the speaker, "one kind which forces an honest man to labor without pay against his will, and the other variety which denies to an honest man the opportunity to labor where he will."

"These two are equally odious and abominable. 'If it ever becomes necessary in this land of ours to demonstrate once the absolute freedom of man to labor when and where he will at honest employment, the existence of that immortal right will be as forcibly and completely demonstrated as was the other, even though our beloved land is again soaked with blood and blighted with ruin.'

SEPARATE LABOR AND ANARCHY.
"The sooner we draw a distinct line of demarcation in this nation between a peaceful labor strike and an anarchistic eruption, the better it will be for the whole nation, labor included. 'Consistent men may differ on the tariff question, but any errors in that regard which we fall into can readily be corrected and no permanent harm will come to our country. Honest men may differ on the money question, but experience will teach us the wisdom or the unwisdom of any financial policy, and when the errors are corrected, the nation and its people will move on.'

THREATENS FREEDOM'S LIFE.
"But if the orderly march of liberty under law shall be stayed or destroyed in this country there will be nothing left in this nation, the preservation of which is the struggle of patriots to preserve."
Before President Emil C. Wetten introduced the first speaker of the evening he read a telegram which had been received from the President. The telegram read:

PRESIDENT'S GREETING.
"Through you I extend to all the members of the Hamilton Club good wishes for the success of the evening. The club stands for sound public policy in the matter of no less than the peace. All good citizens will wish it well."
(Signed)

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."
The following acknowledgment was drafted:

"The Hamilton Club deeply appreciates your kind greeting and desires to express its faith in your wise and sound administration."

ENTERS COLLEGE WORK.
Former Leader of Japanese Progressive Party Quits Politics to Head University.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
TOKIO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Kazyo Hatoyama has resigned the presidency of Waseda University. Dr. Sanai Takata, vice-president, has been elected dean and Count Okuma, chancellor.

Until recently the Count was the leader of the Progressive party of Japan, but apparently he has now determined to abandon politics and devote the remainder of his life to the furtherance of the cause of education.

The Korean trouble in the university has been settled by the voluntary withdrawal of the student who proposed the obnoxious subject of debate, which was, "Shall the Emperor of Korea be made a Japanese peer?"

Past Exalted Ruler of Elks Found Dead in Bed in Hotel Room With Bride of Six Months and Traveling Man—Unable to Tell Connected

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

OTTAWA (Ill.) April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mystery clouds the story of a wild night's orgy, surrounds the sudden death here of Lester H. Jones, a wealthy tailor and Past Exalted Ruler of the Elks.

He was found dead in his room at the Clifton Hotel, and with the body were his wife, a bride of six months, and W. F. McLean, a traveling salesman, whose home is said to be in Minneapolis.

On the floor of the room, on the table, and even on the bed, were champagne bottles, wine bottles of every description, some of them empty, others half empty, and half-smoked cigarettes were strewn everywhere.

When Jones' body was found by physicians, who were hastily summoned by other guests in the hotel, it is charged, Mrs. Jones and McLean were suffering from the effects of the night's orgy, and were unable to give a clear account of what had happened.

Following a post-mortem examination, which is announced to have revealed no evidence of organic disease, all the internal organs were removed, and, together with the champagne bottles and several glasses that were found on the table in the room, were sent to Chicago for chemical examination.

Jones was one of the wealthiest men in the town, and before his marriage to Anna Bartels, a milliner, was a social favorite. After his marriage he was estranged.

BURNS' SON TO WED.

TOLDO (Ohio) April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Raymond J. Burns of Columbus, who is here after A. K. DeWetter, indicted for bribery in San Francisco, under orders from his father, William J. Burns of the San Francisco secret service, secured a license in the Probate Court today to wed Alice May Lilley of Columbus. The ceremony will occur on Thursday or Friday at the Church of St. Francis de Sales.

JAPS TO USE ELECTRICITY.

NEW YORK, April 9.—An announcement is made tonight that the Oja Paper Company of Tokyo has placed a million-dollar order for the electrical equipment with the General Electric Company to be completed and shipped to Japan within six months. The machinery ordered comprises besides the motor equipment for the paper-making machinery, a water-power electric plant which will be erected fifteen miles from the mills proper.

DYNAMITE CHURCH BUILDING.

MARTINSVILLE (Ind.) April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The church building south of this city, used by a sect which believes in healing by laying on of hands, was wrecked by dynamite last night, the entire building being demolished. Members of the church believe that the dynamiting was the work of a malignant, who has been disturbed by the worshippers, but they say they will not prosecute, as the matter is "between him and his God."

PAWNS LEG

TO BUY BEER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

RENO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While peacefully sleeping in a clump of willows on the bank of the Truckee River this afternoon, John Macon, a veteran who fought under Gen. Sherman and lost a limb for the cause, was relieved of his valuable government cork leg by John Heartless, his companion of later stripes on prospecting trips.

When Macon awoke he noticed the police, who found Heartless in a near-by saloon freely imbibing, many beer bought with the artificial limb for $10. The authorities have heartless in custody, but are puzzled just what crime he is guilty of.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Abe Ruef was beautifully snubbed this morning at his own trial by Assemblyman Grove L. Johnson, a man known the length and breadth of California.

Ruef, the forceful and sarcastic prosecutor of Ruef, is a son of Grove Johnson, and his father paid him an admiring visit this morning. He is a distinguished-looking man, with a long white beard, and rather old-fashioned and quaint in his appearance. As he entered the courtroom, just before noon, and heartily found his way forward, a seat was hastily arranged for him just in front of Silas Biggy and almost at Ruef's elbow.

Among others, Ruef turned to speak to him, bowing and smiling. Grove Johnson made a freezing nod, just about two-sixteenths of an inch deep, and turned coldly away. Ruef colored and returned to manhandling his nails, which is his almost constant occupation.

ABE FEELS FUNNY.

When court opened this morning, however, for the resumption of his trial, Ruef was feeling very jocular. Whenever Abraham Beils Jocco, he has a line of conversation that would all say whiskey drummer with envy.

He leaned over to the reporter's table, and said, smilingly, pointing to a newspaper: "That headline is a lie. The 'Ruef' headline is a lie. 'Ruef' is a grafter."

One of the reporters called his attention to the dash between the words "Ruef" and "grafter."

"Well, it's a dash of libel," said Abe. "Some one showed him a dispatch in one of the morning papers which riled him."

"Where did that come from?" he asked.

"It's from the A. P.," replied the reporter, meaning Associated Press.

Abe read the article through, and remarked dryly: "Well, I guess that was from the A.P."

GROVE'S CARTOON.

Some one else showed him a copy of Collier's Weekly, with a cartoon of himself and Mayor Schmitt. His own picture didn't interest him much, but he gazed fixedly at the countenance of the Mayor, that of Gene's picture.

"Well, that's Gene all right," he said. "But where is the union label that always goes on Gene's picture?"

"He was asked if he has yet gotten the French cook he yearned for."

"Nothing doing," he said languidly. "I hope they will find another treasure box at Gene's. They gave me chicken dinner that night."

His tone implied a sneer at the story about the secret treasure box.

During most of the day's proceedings, Abe was pretty solemn, but once his attorney, Ach, asked a taleman: "Do you know that Mr. Ruef stands charged with enough crimes to send him to prison for 999 or 1000 years?"

Ruef snickered outright.

Abe has unusual qualities as a client. He is the most lawyer employing other lawyers, he serves "put in in." The other lawyers squabble and dispute over his case, but he listens in silence unless asked for his opinion.

BRYAN DEFINES HIS NEW RAILWAY DREAM.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Wall Street Journal will print tomorrow a letter to the editor from W. J. Bryan, dated at Lincoln, Neb., April 8, giving Bryan's revised opinion of the proposed government. The main parts of the letter are:

"We are not at the end of railroad development, but rather at its beginning, and I feel, as I have always felt, that the ownership and operation by the Federal government of all the railroads, now constructed and to be constructed, would go far toward the solution of the problem of the preservation of our dual form of government as necessary to the perpetuity of the republic."

"The plan, according to which the Federal government is to own only the necessary trunk lines and the several States the remainder of the roads, is consistent with our form of government and instead of leading to centralization promises to build up the States and thus offer a sure bulwark against centralization."

"It is not necessary that there should be many trunk lines. Only enough trunk lines are necessary to give each State an outlet for the merchandise shipped over the State lines. While it is not likely that adjoining States would have any difficulty in making joint traffic arrangements still the operation of a few Federal trunk lines would give each State an independent position."

"As to the acquiring of lines, I suppose that all would agree that the system should be constructed gradually, so that the government could profit by experience. It is probable that a compromise will be reached."

FORAKER WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN TONIGHT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Foraker left for Ohio tonight and will deliver an address to the Canton Chamber of Commerce tomorrow night. His speech will be the opening gun in the fight to be waged between Secretary Taft and Senator Foraker for the State delegation to the next Republican national convention.

While Senator Foraker will not discuss the Presidential question in this speech, he will undertake to justify his attitude on recent legislation and will state his position with reference to his attitude toward the President. The Canton speech will be followed by a number of political conferences between the Senator and his friends.

Several days ago he telegraphed his most trusted lieutenants throughout the State to sound the sentiment in every community with reference to the strength of Secretary Taft. He will learn the result of this canvass probably on Thursday at Columbus. Senator Foraker will remain in Ohio for some time and it is expected that he will reform his political organ to meet the Taft question. His plans for the campaign will not be made until after he has conferred with the various political leaders in the State.

CHAMBER WOULD PREVENT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
CANTON (O.) April 9.—If the Canton Chamber of Commerce can prevent it, Senator Foraker will not open his campaign here Wednesday night. President C. A. Dougherty of the chamber yesterday made the statement that, despite reports to the contrary, the political battle would not be opened at the annual banquet of the organization.

President Dougherty says that when Senator Foraker was secured to speak, politics was not thought of. He added: "An enormous impression prevails regarding the selection of Senator Foraker to address the Canton Chamber of Commerce on the occasion of its annual banquet next Wednesday evening. When the selection of the principal speaker was suggested a number of names were proposed and Senator Foraker was the choice of the board."

"Senator Foraker, after accepting our invitation, asked the subject we desired him to speak upon. He declared I suggested 'Civic Pride.' My letter of invitation which followed our talk by telephone was published, and should satisfy all that politics was never thought of."

"In a second talk with the Senator by telephone on Saturday morning, I referred to the published statement in which he was quoted as saying that 'Canton was as good a place as any to open his campaign.' He replied that the statement was false."

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, April 9.—In an eloquent appeal both to the written and unwritten law, Delmas M. Delmas this afternoon committed Harry K. Thaw's fate to the jury. The California attorney conducted his five-hour summing-up speech, declaring his client was justified in killing Stanford White.

Tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock Delmas-Atty. Jerome will make his appeal in behalf of the prosecution, Justice Fitzgerald probably will charge the jury, and by tomorrow evening at the latest, the famous case will pass to the deliberation of the twelve men who have so carefully studied its uncertain course for weeks past.

Jerome expects to speak for three or four hours. Justice Fitzgerald will not say today whether he will, or will not, charge the jury directly after the District Attorney's remarks, but the general impression is that he will do so.

With the exception of the moments when he was reading from testimony, Delmas' speech today was one of sustained oratorical effort. He threw about the force of Harry Thaw the cloak of chivalrous knight.

"Why," he asked, "should we who admire the chivalry of the knights of the Middle Ages?"

"Indeed," he asked, "should we not play with Evelyn Knight as long as her beauty remained, and then would have thrown her away 'like a dirty rag to float down life's waters to a grave in the Potter's field'?"

Again he said: "Harry Thaw snatched the girl from the old lecher who saw in her but a toy to gratify a moment's lust, and then he cast aside to go her way down the path of fallen women."

"With dramatic emphasis Delmas cried out that when Harry Thaw held Stanford White on the Madison Square Roof Garden, the story of his wife's wrongs overcame him. He pictured to us instantly, as a crime man might picture his past life—all that Stanford White had done—the ruin he had wrought, and he struck-struck 'as the terrors strikes in delmas of his young struck for the home struck for humanity—and Stanford White fell.'"

INSTRUMENT OF GOD.

"Gentlemen," the advocate went on, "if Harry Thaw believed he was the instrument of Providence, who will say he was mistaken?"

Delmas discussed briefly the testimony of the expert witnesses, declaring that whatever weight might attach to their utterances was on the side of the defendant. He declared the burden of proof as to Thaw's insanity at the time of the homicide rested with the prosecution, which had failed to make out its case.

In discussing Thaw's mental state Delmas came at last to the "unwritten law." He declared the experts had been at a loss to classify the form of insanity from which Thaw suffered.

"I will suggest its name," he declared. "I would call it 'dementia Americana,'" he declared. "It is a species of insanity which has been recognized in every State in this Union. It is that species of insanity which makes the American man believe his home, his wife, his daughters are sacred, and that whatsoever stains the virtue of his threshold violates the highest of human laws."

Twice during his closing periods, Delmas was interrupted by Asst. Dist. Atty. Garvin, who suggested the argument was taking too wide a scope, and Justice Fitzgerald called Delmas' attention to the fact.

Thaw seemed to be in the best of spirits, and declared to his lawyers in the Tombs that he felt his case was won. He seemed to have no dread of the assault of the District Attorney tomorrow. There was a report today that Jerome was ill, but he appeared at his office during the afternoon and said he had been busy for two days preparing his argument.

In view of the District Attorney's remarks before the luncheon commission that Thaw is today hopelessly insane, most interest attaches to the line of argument he will pursue in asking for the man's conviction.

DELMAS' ARGUMENT.
When Delmas arose to resume his argument, he told the jury he would endeavor to be as brief as possible in order not to tax their patience and relieve them of their onerous duty as speedily as consistent with the responsibilities resting upon him.

"When I am done," said Delmas, "I shall give the fate of my client into your hands with every confidence." Delmas said it would be necessary to make a rapid glance over his summary

Audacious Thief.
T. R. Owen of No. 723 South Hope street, reported to the police that his house was entered Monday evening and jewelry and money stolen. The thief entered by a back window and ransacked upstairs rooms while the family was entertaining guests in the parlor.

Bethlehem Concert.
A free concert will be given this evening at Bethlehem Hall, Railroad and Main streets, to which a general invitation is extended. There will be vocal and instrumental music, whistling solos and recitations. The program is arranged by Charles E. Best.

Demand Better Protection.
Highland Park citizens will ask the Board of Police Commissioners for better police protection for the suburb. According to them, there is but one lone policeman to patrol the entire district from Avenue 41 to Avenue 56, at Garvanza beyond Avenue 61.

Divine's Sudden Break-down.
Several scores in Highland Park were entered recently and this has caused the petition for increased protection. Divine's Sudden Break-down.

Gov. William T. Thornton. formerly Governor of New Mexico, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday with his wife. The Thorntons have taken apartments on South Hill street and intend to make this city their home. They came by steamer to San Francisco, bringing with them an old and trusted family servant. Greatly to their regret, the servant was not permitted to land by the examining surgeons of the port because of an eye disease.

Can Practice Optometry.
The results of the recent examination of candidates desiring to practice optometry, conducted in this city by S. Cahn, president of the State Board of Examiners, has just been made public. There were eighteen applicants for certificates and fourteen were successful. J. C. Sharp, P. Stocking, R. B. Shillito, E. A. Maxwell, A. Spilto, F. F. Hurlbert, Robert T. Chadwick, J. William Brown, William C. McAlister, J. P. Fudling, E. A. Taylor and C. W. Sanford.

To Entertain the Editors.
Members of the Southern California Editorial Association will banquet Saturday evening at Levy's at the expense of the wholesale newspaper supply house of this city. Those who have formed a "trust" or "combine" in the matter of playing host are the Southern Printing Supply Company, the American Type Foundry Company, Zellerbach's, and Blake, Moffatt & Torrey. The banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock in the evening, following an all-day session of the association, and at the close of the banquet the scribbles will adjourn to the Arcade station. The party will take the "Owl" for Bakersfield, where they will be entertained on Sunday, returning to Los Angeles Monday evening. Fifty have engaged Pullman berths for the trip.

MINES AND MINING.
Machinery is Shipped from This City to Guadalajara, Mex.

K. H. Seibel, a Chicago mining engineer, has just been in the city for the purpose of purchasing a ten-stamp mill and cyanide plant of 100 tons daily capacity for his mines thirty-six miles from Guadalajara in the State of Jalisco, Mex. The machinery will be shipped via the Southern Pacific to El Paso and then over the Mexican Central. The fact that Mr. Seibel came here, staying only long enough to give his order before proceeding to Chicago, goes to show how great is the extent of the mining district tributary to this city.

The completion of the Southern Pacific's Mexican line down the coast to Guadalajara will place the entire country where these properties are situated more than 500 miles nearer to Los Angeles and make this city stand with scarcely a rival that can compete if proper efforts are made to get the trade.

Stanley Forbes Election.
The Stanley Forbes Mining and Milling Company has elected the following officers and directors: Joseph McArthur, president; M. H. Best, vice-president; John R. Taylor, J. Jefferson Tyndall and Fred S. Ray, M. D. Johnson is secretary and President McArthur is fiscal agent.

Custom Mill at Rhyolite.
The Nevada Milling and Ore Purchasing Company, a corporation of Goldfield and Denver capitalists, will erect a custom mill of fifty tons capacity near Rhyolite. Want of water has hitherto handicapped milling in this region, but the new company is said to have water sufficient for a 50-ton mill. W. H. Malone of Denver is president; E. H. Sanford of Goldfield, vice-president; P. H. Stickney, treasurer.

In connection with the announcement of building it is also stated that

Skinner Gets Rich Find.
Fred C. Skinner, well known in Los Angeles, has announced that he has acquired a rich property in the Charleston Mountains near Johnnie, from which he has obtained ore running eight ounces in silver and 40 per cent lead. The property was purchased for $25,000 from the original locator, John R. McDonald. It is interested with Mr. Skinner and a company has been formed to work the property and a contract let for sinking a 150-foot shaft.

FLAG-RAISING AT "THE OUTPOST."

Patriotic and Inspiring Event—Stirring Addresses by Great Men and Orators Cannon and Music and Barbecue Under the Sycamores.

YESTERDAY, the forty-second anniversary of Appomattox, was no more notable than among the hills of Hollywood, beneath a flawless Southern California sky blue-domed above green uplands and the broad champagne that stretches, flower-flamed, to the Sunset Sea. The event was commemorated by an old-fashioned flag-raising. The scene was "The Outpost," the suburban home of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis.

Los Angeles or up by way of the winding trails that lead from Santa Monica and the sea, the guests found the journey to "The Outpost" delightful to a degree. Never was all Hollywood fairer than it was yesterday. The magic gardens were riotous with color, the hedges trimmed in long emerald vistas, the lawns soft as the carpets of Fairyland. Up and down the broad, dustless highway the eye rested on endless flowers, bright with the rainbow's seven hues. Orchards heavy with blossom and golden fruit, and fragrant as the forests of Arcady, accented the summer winds.

Scenes at the flag-raising yesterday at "The Outpost"—Eating the barbecued meats under an old sycamore on the historic grounds. Gunners firing the salute to the flag as it floats on the breeze—The 36-foot flag at the top of the 111-foot staff.

through lives of strenuous endeavor in both war and peace. Among the more than 200 guests assembled at the appointed hour were men who have attained the highest honors in military and civic life, not a few of them known wherever the flag floats throughout the world, and wherever the soldiers of freedom bivouac beneath the stars and wake at morn to the bugle's reveille. A famous soldier, who has reached the most exalted military rank now possible in this country, was there; and others who have attained almost equal military distinction stood beside him. Ex-Governors of two States were present, at whose elbows were captains of industry, giants in the world's large affairs, doctors of the law, the flower of the pulpits, soldiers of the rank and file, workers at the looms, and over them all the banner of the stars, high sung with its folds of glory.

SCORNED WIFE ENDS SILENCE.

Mrs. Bryson, Sr., Brings Many-sided Suit.

Claims a Conspiracy, Making Serious Charges.

Says Woman Has Squandered Large Sums.

After years of alleged suffering and mortification Mrs. Evaline Bryson, the aged wife of John Bryson, Sr., former Mayor of Los Angeles, yesterday relieved her feelings by bringing suit in the Superior Court in the name of her husband, and as his guardian, against those whom she claims are joined in a conspiracy to secure his property, which she estimates at $100,000.

"Uncle" John Bryson is 88 years old.

but is still hale and hearty by all accounts, and lives in a beautiful home at No. 903 South Duomo Street, although at present out of town. As the builder of the Bryson building and a pioneer of the city's business importance, Mr. Bryson is well known. About twelve years ago he and his wife, Mrs. Evaline Bryson, 82 years old, separated by mutual agreement and divided their property, each retaining an undivided one-half interest in the Bryson building. Of the rest of the property each took one-half with the understanding that they were to do with it as they pleased.

Since then for many years Mr. Bryson's comfort has been looked after by Mrs. Gladys L. Lamberton, who is made the principal defendant in the suit filed in the Superior Court yesterday. In this suit Mrs. Lamberton is charged with alienating the affections of Mr. Bryson from his family, with entering into a conspiracy with others to secure the old man's property, with squandering and wasting his money to the amount of $100,000, and living with him in unlawful intercourse. Also that she has placed his income of $3000 a month in banks in her name.

DETAILS OF SUIT. In this suit Mr. Bryson really appears as a plaintiff against himself and friends, the title being, "John Bryson, Sr., incompetent, by Evaline Bryson, guardian, vs. Gladys L. Lamberton, H. S. Rollins, F. D. McDowell, Merchants' National Bank, Security Savings Bank and others." Henry T. Gage, W. T. Foley and Harris & Harris are the attorneys for Mrs. Bryson.

The purpose of the suit is to restrain the defendants from disposing of any property of Mr. Bryson, to return the property they are alleged to have already taken possession of or bought with his money, to recover damages for the alleged loss and practically to render an accounting of Mr. Bryson's income during the past three years, an income asserted to amount to $36,000 a year.

The papers are voluminous and go into detail, among other things, charging that Mrs. Lamberton bought with Mr. Bryson's money on August 4, 1904, from John B. and Martha Althouse, a lot in the Bonnie Brie Tract, also a lot in the Fairview Tract and property at Santa Monica. All of this property Mrs. Bryson, as guardian, asks the court to have returned to her husband, and the title vested in him.

It is also claimed that the defendants hold a note from J. M. McDowell in favor of Mr. Bryson, dated October 9, 1905, for $5000. This also she wants returned to the keeping of Mr. Bryson or his guardian.

Mrs. Bryson further alleges that for three years Mr. Bryson has been of unsound mind and has been under control of Mrs. Lamberton and her agents, Messrs. Rollins and McDowell, and that she has alienated his affections from his children, who are named as Isaac H., 62; James P., 60; and John M., 58 years old, and Mrs. O. W. Krauss, 58 years old.

SPADE BRIGADE WORKS FOR ADE.

LIVE MAN'S MEMORIAL IS PLACED IN PASADENA.

Colonel from Mint Julep Land Acts as Official Water Carrier but After It Is Over Amateur Tree Planters Adjoin to Test Liquid That Made Milwaukee Famous.

One of the most unusual and interesting events of the day was the "Spade Brigade" which was organized by the Pasadena Amateur Tree Planters. The brigade was composed of men and women who were interested in the preservation of the live man's memorial in Pasadena. The brigade was organized by the Pasadena Amateur Tree Planters and was composed of men and women who were interested in the preservation of the live man's memorial in Pasadena.

As was fit and proper on such a solemn occasion, President Harrison of the Pasadena Amateur Tree Planters acted as master of ceremonies. Now for several years Mr. Harrison has been the living link between the live man's memorial and the city of Pasadena.

Although Col. Hogan had been appointed official water carrier, and had been given the honor of carrying the water to the live man's memorial, he was not to do so. He was to be the official water carrier, but he was not to do so.

The second tree was planted by D. G. Gamble, Jr. of Procter & Gamble, and has devoted most of his life to the manufacture of soap. The tree is a live man's memorial, and is the only one of its kind in the world.

The "walking delegate" was present in the person of Harrison I. Rogers, Jr. of the Pasadena Amateur Tree Planters. He was the only one of his kind in the world, and he was the only one of his kind in the world.

With the work safely over, the live man's memorial was placed in the ground. The live man's memorial was placed in the ground, and the live man's memorial was placed in the ground.

The "season" is rapidly approaching, and within the next few weeks visitors will begin to return to their homes. The live man's memorial was placed in the ground, and the live man's memorial was placed in the ground.

BOLT SPLITS REPUBLICANS.

Morality Crusade Factor in Phoenix.

Administration Faction Still Confident.

Globe Murder Case—Banks Prospering.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 8.—Conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties for nominations of candidates for the leading city offices and for Councilmen from the First and Third wards will be held tomorrow night. At the present time the Republicans are in full control of the city. The administration has been a most satisfactory one to a large majority of the population, of whatever party, and there seems a general sentiment that Mayor Coggins will be re-nominated. The principal work of the Mayor and the City Council during the past year has been in the line of the moral regulation of the city, including the abolition of gambling and the raising of the retail liquor licenses to $1000 per annum. The liquor interests fear that a continuation of the same regime would mean more of the same medicine, hence there has arisen in the Republican ranks a strong insurrection, headed by J. C. Adams, formerly Mayor of the city and owner of the city's largest hotel. This faction at the primaries last Friday secured control of the First Ward by cleverly holding back its votes until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when 100 ballots were rushed in, overwhelming the administration faction, which had become overconfident.

It is still believed that in Tuesday's convention, Coggins will be re-nominated by the votes of the other wards, but it will not be done without a struggle. The Democrats are all at sea concerning nominees, and may have a prohibition platform. It is acknowledged that Coggins will be re-elected, if nominated. If the Republican faction fails to do this, the Democrats will immediately institute a vigorous campaign.

Y.M.C.A. BUILDING PLANNED.
Another campaign of large importance to Phoenix will be started tonight and will continue for two weeks. It will be for the purpose of securing $50,000 for the erection in this city of a building for a Young Men's Christian Association. Though the movement has been under way among the business men of the city for several weeks, the boom was formally launched at a banquet at the Hotel Adams Monday night. B. A. Fowler, president of the local Young Men's Association, presided. Among the speakers were Gov. Kibbey, Chief Justice Kent, General Secretary C. T. Hirst, secretary of the business men of the city. The campaign is well blocked out already and the necessary effect of the campaign will be that all the workers will meet daily at luncheon to report progress and to renew their enthusiasm. Fifty or more have signed an agreement to devote at least one-third of their time for the next two weeks to the business of raising the amount desired.

TERRITORIAL MAN ARRESTED.
Considerable of a sensation locally has been caused by a report from Clifton that J. C. Cole of Phoenix had been arrested for enticing young girls from their homes, under the promise of positions in theatrical companies. The man arrested claimed to have been superintendent of schools in Phoenix for four years. J. C. Cole was principal of the Central school building of Phoenix and later superintendent of the Phoenix and later superintendent of the Phoenix. There is a possibility that the man arrested is one Cole, who was connected with the abandoned Southern Railway Company, which showed in this city about two years ago.

DEAD MAN'S MATE ARRESTED.
A week ago, George Welch, a young man, was killed near Globe in his tent. The coroner's jury pronounced it a case of suicide. There were two bullet holes in the skull, but the second, was concluded, was made by the exit of the same bullet that entered at the jaw. A post-mortem examination, however, developed the fact that within the skull were two bullets, the wound made by either necessarily fatal and both bullets could hardly have been fired by Welch. As a result of this investigation, Welch's bank, which had been arrested, charged with murder. Rapier is a brother of Phil Rapier, now serving a seven years term in Yuma for forgery of government checks. The pistol with which the fatal shots were fired was the property of Rapier. The three had been drinking together, but there appears to have been no quarrel, and it is believed that robbery could hardly have been the motive. Altogether, there were five shots fired. The hypothesis at first was that Welch had fired through the side of his tent and had directed the last bullet against himself. Nearly a hundred persons were precipitated into the dry bed of Pinal Creek at Globe, a few days ago, by the collapse of a wooden bridge that led to a theater, a short time before the opening of the doors for the evening performance. The drop was about eight feet. It is considered almost miraculous that no one was seriously hurt.

Michael Vantis, an Italian miner in the Copper Hill mine near Globe, was struck by a falling rock Saturday and so injured that his recovery is doubtful. Over at Yuma, S. B. Sealey announces his formal intention to sue certain peace officers in Phoenix for $10,000 damages. He says the officers arrested him for charges which were not sustained on examination and that during his imprisonment they bored holes in the cell to which he was assigned and tried to murder him by filling the cell with gas. Another general peace officer on the part of the Phoenix police, according to Sealey, was attempting to drive him insane by throwing reduction of water, after the walls of his cell. When he was released, he said he was offered $10,000 to return to the Phoenix police about it. He is still expecting the receipt of his money if he does not get it, he will raise trouble.

It appears that the employees of the copper companies at Clifton and Morenci have not been favored by the general increase of wages given miners throughout Arizona of late. Nearly seven are employed in the two companies and the Detroit Mining Company and the Western Federation of Miners, but unsuccessfully. They are now circulating a petition, asking a raise of 10 cents per day, the same raise that have been made at Globe and Bisbee. The petition reads: "We request the Arizona Legislature to increase of wages in other Arizona mining camps. In the event of a reduction of wages in the Arizona mining camps, we will most willingly accept the present wage scale again."

NEW TERRITORIAL BANKS.
A report of the Territorial Bank Controller, which has just been filed, shows that the Territorial banks of Arizona have resources and liabilities amounting to $11,222,975.53. There are twenty-seven banks, exclusive of national banks. At the head of the list in point of resources stands the Bank of Phoenix, with a total of $1,789,854; second is the Bank of Bisbee, with a total of $1,659,947; the third is the Bank of Prescott, with $1,551,670. Immediately following these in importance are the Gila Valley Bank and Trust Company of Solomonville, the Arizona Central Bank of Flagstaff, the Bank of Douglas at Douglas and the Valley Bank of Phoenix.

Probably the leader among the national banks of the Territory in point of resources is the Phoenix National Bank of Phoenix, whose statement, issued March 22, shows total resources of $1,497,227. A close second is the Consolidated National Bank of Tucson. The Phoenix National Bank a few days ago moved back into its old quarters in the Fleming building, which had been under reconstruction for several months. The new equipment is of the most expensive description and without doubt the best in any banking institution in the Southwest. The bank now has double the room formerly occupied and double the staff.

The Globe Bank and Savings Company has opened for business in Globe. It is managed, and most of the capital has been supplied by E. F. Keller, one of the pioneer merchants of Arizona. A permanent organization has been made of the Associated Charities of Phoenix with B. A. Fowler as president, Mayor L. W. Coggins, vice-president, C. T. Hirst, secretary, and Robert Burmeister, treasurer, Miss C. G. Gilchrist has been retained as the permanent charity being about the association will not begin until July.

TEACHERS ASK MORE PAY.
The teachers of Maricopa county are lower paid than those of any other subdivision of Arizona. They had expected, in these times of prosperity, to have their wages raised this year. The County School Superintendent has strongly recommended the raise, but the Board of Supervisors have been compelled to turn the recommendation down. Curiously enough, the lack of funds will proceed from two most laudable causes. One is the fact that the county will be deprived of a large income through the assumption of the debt of the Phoenix and Eastern road by the Federal government. The second is that $15,000 a year income has been thought to turn the recommendation of the Legislature has raised the salaries of all the county officials, including the County School Superintendent.

In the annual election of the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, practically no change has been made in the board of governors or in the members of the Council. There were contests only in a couple of the districts. The City Council of Globe has entered upon the path that lead towards civic purity by an ordinance which sternly prohibits the establishment of drinking saloons over the dead-line of forty-five. It happens that there are just forty-one in Globe at the present time. Globe is about half the size of Tucson and in Tucson the number is limited to thirty. Phoenix is understood to have twenty-eight, though the limit is only the number of local liquor vendors who can raise the necessary tax of $1000 per annum for city and Territorial licenses, together with the amounts exacted by the Federal government for the sale of liquor and tobacco.

ROBED MOUNTAIN LION.
John Gilland, a Phoenix cowboy, is the hero of an adventure which shows that good luck tarries in his vicinity. He roped a large mountain lion on the slopes of the Sierra Ancha Mountains and not only lives to tell about it, but to collect $25 bounty from the Board of Supervisors. He had been guilty of gross carelessness in riding the range without firearms. His dog chased out a mountain lion, which fed. The cowboy started in chase and dropped the nose of his larid over the head of the cat, as it was about to escape in the rocks. Then it was that the Gilland became the pursued. Within a few minutes the lion would have overtaken the horse and its rider, when, luckily, their paths were separated by a small tree. Around this the larid was wrapped tight. Gilland took quick advantage of his opportunity, with the result that within a few minutes the lion was dragged to the tree and strangled.

Last Sunday, considerable damage was done at Globe by a high wind, demolishing lightly constructed buildings and awnings. H. H. Meers of Los Angeles Outrigger Farm, near Escondido Park, has been in Phoenix for several days. Here he purchased fifty mature ostriches and a number of chicks from the Tempe ostrich farm.

For the past year it has been known that the Southern Pacific had blocked the plans of the Santa Fe for an extension of the Phoenix and Eastern road up the Gila Cañon from its present terminus at Winslow. Final action in connection with the road to the possession of the traffic of Northern California, a peace pact was patched up that seemed to leave the Southern Pacific in possession of the Northern Arizona, except for that part covered by the El Paso and Southwestern system, the which owns fuelled and is as independent as the proverbial pig on ice. For a while, there was a prospect for two transcontinental trunk lines through Phoenix. Now the prospect seems limited to a single line through the Gila Cañon, eastward to a connection with the Gila Valley, Globe and Northern road at San Carlos, and thence to Globe on the one hand, and to the Santa Fe station line at Bowie. The Gila Valley road has been rebuilt in main line fashion, but the road from Winslow to San Carlos, a stretch of forty miles of the hardest of grading, has been covered only in spots.

DOWN GO LICENCES.
REDUCTION IN TUCSON.
[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
TUCSON (Ariz.) April 8.—After a good start along the line of legislation, the City Council has taken the road back toward the starting point. The city has prided itself very much upon being the pioneer municipality to prohibit legalized gambling. A number of ordinances along this line have been passed by city councils prior to the one now in force. One of these established a liquor license of $1000, but restricted the number of saloons in the city to thirty. The new City Council, incidentally a Republican one, has just cut down the city's revenue $14,000 per annum by reducing the retail saloon license from $1000 to $500 per annum. The Democratic members of the Council insist that the imposition of a Territorial license tax of $300 per annum on saloons, makes the gross amount too high. Politically to balance this action, an ordinance was passed, making it a misdemeanor to serve liquor to an intoxicated person or to an habitual drunkard.

GAMBLERS IN SUSPENSE.
The gambling element of Tucson is in a state of agonized suspense, pending a decision as to whether a poker game can be legally run under the terms of the act prohibiting public gambling in Arizona. It is alleged that "drunk poker" is not specifically mentioned in the act, and, therefore, is legal, and cannot be interfered with by the police. Continuous poker games are being run in the Tucson saloons, taking the place of the roulette and faro games, which were prohibited. These poker games are said to be very profitable to the saloon keepers, who collect about $10 a night from the "kitty" of each game.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.
Eduardo Ramirez and Julio Pina are being held in the Tucson jail, awaiting extradition proceedings. They are wanted in Mexico to answer to the charge of cheating the Mexican government out of $25,000 customs duties. The prisoners have been prominent residents of Nogales, Sonora, where they were engaged in the brokerage business. Two of their partners have been arrested in Sonora, charged with being implicated in the same conspiracy. The specific charge against the men held in Tucson is forgery. They have offered bail in any amount, up to $100,000, but this has been refused by Judge Campbell. Ramirez and Pina are victims of overconfidence. They managed to make their escape to the northern side of the line, where they thought the same laws governing extradition which cover cases preferred by private citizens. It is understood that the brokerage firm was getting rich by falsifying shipping bills. The Mexican government has secured their already by seizing property of the Ramirez brothers at Nogales, where they had fine residences, and also owned the local theater.

POST CHANGES HANDS.
The Tucson Weekly Post has been sold by Allen Jaynes to Herbert Brown, one of the pioneer newspaper men of Arizona, and for fifteen years proprietor and editor of the Tucson Citizen. Mr. Brown left Tucson to become superintendent of the Territorial penitentiary at Yuma. Brown, from the management of the Tucson Citizen, he has been down to Yuma. It is understood that Brown will soon be made a deputy sheriff of the County of Pinal. Brown's previous experience in law enforcement was as a deputy sheriff of the County of Pinal. Brown's previous experience in law enforcement was as a deputy sheriff of the County of Pinal.
